

Certipost e-Invoicing

“Paper documents generate a heavy administrative workload, not only for us but also for our customers. That is why our customers started asking for paperless invoices,” says Raymond Moermans, ICT Director at BCD Travel.

both BCD Travel and its customers benefit from e-Invoicing

BCD Travel, a leading provider of global corporate travel management, has started sending electronic invoices to its customers. As a result, both parties can process their administration in a faster and more economical way.

BCD Travel sends out between 40,000 and 50,000 invoices each month. “Currently, we are still delivering a large number of invoices on paper”, says Raymond Moermans, ICT Director at BCD Travel. “However, this has a number of downsides, such as the risk of delayed or lost invoices. Furthermore, paper documents generate a heavy administrative workload, not only for us but also for our customers. That is why our customers started asking for paperless invoices.”

Today, some of BCD Travel’s customers are already receiving electronic invoices by means of the integrated e-Invoicing solution Certipost Bizconnect. This allows them to process the invoice data directly in their accountancy software. Customers who lack the necessary back-office technology can receive their invoices in PDF format via Certipost Bizmail.

Raymond Moermans concludes: “Whether for us or for our customers, electronic invoices save time through enhanced efficiency. We also expect that the move to electronic invoicing will enable us to reduce our costs. In addition, this value-added service gives our company a competitive edge, because we respond to our customers’ needs.”
